DON'T WE THINK THE SAME! ABOUT LEUKY
(How he's after Foster, Katie)
Well - with me + my canoe!
You an your SAILBOAT!
I think we'll have fun this summer! Even at Martha's Vinyard - Nantucket!
I don't want you to skip
a grade! You're too smart
to stay in 9th though!
I'll always think of you
as younger and (BOO!) smarter)
Au revoir! Ma ami!
Jenny!
How's about canoeing today - with Gretchen!

At night, when the sea cradles me
And the pale star gleam
Lies down on its broad waves,
Then I free myself wholly
From all activity and all the love
And stand silent and breathe purely,
Alone, alone cradled by the sea
That lies there, cold and silent, with a thousand lights.
Then I have to think of my friends
And my gaze sinks into their gazes
And I ask each one, silent, along:
"Are you still mine?
Do you feel from my love, my grief
Just a breath, just an echo?"

And the sea peacefully gazes back, silent,
And smiles: no.
And no greeting and no answer comes from anywhere.

— Hermann Hesse

I am only one,
But still I am one,
I can not do everything,
But still I can do something,
And because I can not do everything,
I will not refuse to do the something
That I can do.

I will not play at tug 'o war.
I'd rather play at hug 'o war,
Where everyone hugs
Instead of tugs
Where everyone giggles
And rolls on the rug,
Where everyone kisses,
And everyone grins,
And everyone cuddles,
And everyone wins.

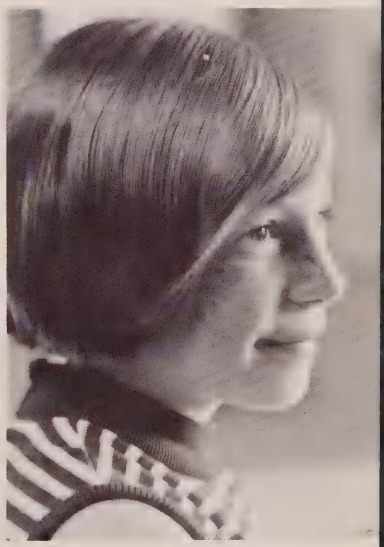
It's always useful to know where a friend — and — relation is, whether you want him or whether you don't.



You find sometimes that a Thing which seemed very Thingish inside you is quite different when it gets out into the open and has other people looking at it.

"Pooh, promise you won't forget about me, ever.
Not even when I'm a hundred."
Pooh thought for a little.
"How old shall I be then?"
"Ninety-nine."
Pooh nodded.
"I promise", he said.

I would like to extend my very warmest wishes and deepest appreciation to the two most beautiful people I will ever have the privelege of knowing:
Laszlo K. Koltay and
Jerry C. Millhon.
May the future bring only the best to you.

FRAMING and being framed . . . Mr. Lundholm saying, "Matt! Gerry! I know you have Math to do . . . Going to get some "B's" . . . Stuck in the mud on Greaser Day . . . Water fights in Chemistry . . . Fighting in the halls as a freshman and sophomore, okay, as a junior and senior, too . . . S.U.M. — Shut up Matt . . . Euton and backpacking . . . Busch and Miller.

If I've succeeded it's because I outwork most people. Work is simply a synonym for effort. The average American pictures himself as an extremely hard worker. Sociologists and psychologists have shown, however, that most persons are really operating on less than half power. In terms of effort, they may never get over 50%, although they think of themselves as 90% producers. Therefore, to get 100% you must aim for 110%. The world belongs to those who aim for 110%.

To me the real test of every man and every woman is how much they give of themselves. What gripes me most is that people think they want something, but when it comes to a little work — a job, or doing some extra study — they fall by the wayside.

I strongly believe that every day you waste is one you can never make up. Winners don't waste time, and that applies in every walk of life.

If you don't work in the off-season, you're not going to win. The off-season is the time when you improve. Every day, unless you make some progress you're going to get behind or someone's going to get ahead of you. What you do with your free time determines how successful you'll be and what you're going to contribute in life.

If you want something badly enough, no matter what it is, you'll get it if you just stay after it morning, noon, and night, and drive yourself to get it.

On Looking Up By Chance At The Constellations

You'll wait a long, long time for anything much
To happen in heaven beyond the floats of cloud
And the Northern Lights that run like tingling nerves.
The sun and moon get crossed, but they never touch,
Nor strike out fire from each other, nor crash out loud.
The planets seem to interfere in their curves,
But nothing ever happens, no harm is done.
We may as well go patiently on with our life,
And look elsewhere than to stars and moon and sun
For the shocks and changes we need to keep us sane.
It is true the longest drouth will end in rain,
The longest peace in China will end in strife.
Still it wouldn't reward the watcher to stay awake
In hopes of seeing the calm of heaven break
On this particular time and personal sight.
That calm seems certainly safe to last tonight.

Our American heritage is based upon self-reliance and the efforts of hard working people. From many ethnic origins we have joined together to accomplish mutual goals through the free enterprise system. The employees of Libbey-Owens-Ford Company are proud to be a part of that tradition; established more than 100 years ago in a small but enterprising glass-making shop. We've got the spirit of '76.

Looking toward the future . . .

As supplies of natural gas and oil continue to grow scarce, electricity will play an even larger role in meeting the expanding energy needs of our society. That's why Toledo Edison is developing new sources of energy, such as nuclear power, and planning ahead for the power needs of 1990 and beyond.

We're determined to meet this challenge and provide the best possible electric service for your generation and others that follow.

Jenny,
What can I say to such a brilliant and lovely young lady. Have a great career in the upper school but come down to see us occasionally.

D.M.M.

Jenny,

to A sweet girl who has a fantastic amount of energy. Keep up the good work.

Peace.
